Headline:
Increasing cloud, with some patchy rain after dark.

Today:
A frosty but bright start to the day, with a few mist and fog patches. Cloud gradually increasing from the west as the day progresses. Patchy rain arriving in the far west by dusk. A chilly feeling day. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Tonight:
Staying cloudy through the evening and overnight, with outbreaks of rain moving eastwards. Turning drier towards the end of the night. Generally frost free. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Thursday:
A largely cloudy morning, with a little light rain, largely over the hills. Rain turning more persistent into the afternoon. Mild but a little breezy. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Often cloudy on Christmas Eve, with further rain moving through. Turning colder Christmas Day, perhaps a little rain and hill snow. After a damp start, Boxing Day may brighten up.
